AN EXPERIENCE MEETING.

"What is it I hear about your pa being turned out of prayer meeting Wednesday night?" asked the grocer of the bad boy, as he came over after some cantaloupes for breakfast and pugged a couple to see if they were ripe.

"He wasn't turned out of the prayer meeting at all. The people all went away, and pa and ma was the last ones out of the church.
But pa and ma was mad, and don't you forget it."

"Well, what seemed to be the trouble Has your pa become a backslider?"

"Oh, no, his flag is still there.
But something seems to go wrong.
You see, when we got ready to go to prayer meeting last night, pa told me to go up stairs and get him a handkerchief, and to drop a little 'fumery on it, and put it in the tail pocket of his black coat. I did it, but I guess I got hold of the wrong bottle that said 'Jamaica Rum,' and I put on a big lot. Just afore I put the handkerchief in pa's pocket I noticed a pack of cards on the stand that pa used to play hi-lo-jack with ma evenings when he was so sick he couldn't go down town, before he got 'ligion, and I wrapped the handkerchief around the pack of cards, and put them in his pocket.
I don't know what made me do it, and pa don't either, I guess, 'cause he told ma this morning that I was possessed of a devil. I must go home with these watermelons or they won't keep."

"But hold on," says the grocery man, as he gave the boy a few raisins with worms in, that he couldn't sell, to keep him, "what about the prayer meeting?"

"O, like to forgot. Well, pa and ma went to prayer meeting, and ma came along afterwards with a deakin that is mashed on her, I guess, 'cause he says she's to be pitted for having to go through life yoked to such an old prize ox as pa. I heard him tell ma that, when he was helping her put on her rubber water privilege to go home in the rain the night of the sociable, and she looked at him just as she does at me when she want me to go down to the hair foundry after her switch, and said, 'O, you dear brother,' and all the way home he kept her water privilege on by putting his arm on the small of her back. Ma asked pa if he didn't think the deakin was real kind,' but that was afore he got 'ligion. We sat in a pew, at the prayer meeting, next to ma and the deakin, and there was lots of pious folks all around. After the preacher had gone to bat, an old lady had her innings apraying, and the singers had got out on the first base, pa was on peck and the preacher said they would like to hear from the recent convert, who was trying to walk in the straight and narrow way, but found it so hard, owing to the many crosses he had to bear.
Pa knowed that it was him that had to go to bat, and he got up and said, 'he felt it was good to be there.' He said at times everything looked dark to him, and he feared he should faller by the wayside, but by a firm resolve he kept his eyes set on the future, and if he was tempted to do wrong he said get thee behind me, satan, and stuck in his toenails for a pull to the right. He said he was thankful to the brothers and sister, particularly the sisters, for all they
